Some of Those Who Will Represent the Confederate Organizations-How They Will Be Entertained-The Art Club's Plans,

Generally the winter season seems to begin at the time when flower-beds are blosseming out with protective newspapers, and when flocks of wild geese go screeching southward. This fall, however, the season is commencing earlier. Already the livery-stable keeper is gathering in a golden harvest, the florist is taking an opticistic view of life, and this year's debutante is in a whirl of excitement and gayety. Perhaps this is a lucky arrangement, because some wise people say that the world will shortly come to an end, and it would be manifestly unjust for the debutantes of 1897 to be nipped in the bud after only one or two dances.

The coming of the Associated Druggists to Richmond has been the chief means of infusing new life into society here. Every night of their stay has been marked by some entertainment. On Monday night there was an informal re-ception, when the guests of the city met ould-be entertainers for the first time. This was followed on Tuesday evening by the president's reception. Mr. and Mrs. Purcell and Mr. and Mrs. Dollceived their friends among the disyoung people present tested the advan-tages of the Jefferson's beautiful bail-room. The next evening was dedicated to music. Under the superintendence of Mr. and Mrs. Clowes a most delightful programme was provided, and carried out n the rotunds of the hotel, while the audience sat in the galleries and courts around. A banquet for about 20 guests was given on Thursday night. The banquet was one of the most notable that has ever taken place in Elchmond, be-ing attended by some of the cleverest men and women of our city, as well as by the leading men and women of the Druggists' Association. In the afternoon Thursday Mrs. John B. Purcell gave a ten to the wives and daughters of the visiting druggists, when for several hours her residence, on Park avenue, was the scene of a most brilliant gathering and of an entertainment perfect in taste and appointments.

This week another organization will visit Richmond. On the 20th, 21st, and, 22d the camps of Confederate Veterans from all parts of the State will be staying here, and another opportunity will be given our citizens to do honor to these brave soldiers. Nearly all of the camps will be accompanied by their sponsors and maids of honor. The li The list of J. E. B. The programme for entertaining these guests during their three days stay is now nearly decided upon. On the 20th the sponeors, maids of honor, and the other members of the various camps are to meet at 12 o'clock in Lee Camp Hall, No. 616 east Broad street. There will be a prayer by the Chaplain-General, an address of welcome by the Hon. R. M. Taylor, response by Colonel John J. Wil-liams, of Winchester, Va., and a presentation of testimonials by the Grand Camp After these ceremonies the sponsors an maids of honor will assemble at Elha Station to take the train for Glen Allen, where Captain Cussons wiff entertain them for the rest of the day.

October list the Grand Camp will meet for business at 10 o'clock A. M. The sponsors, mads of honor, and invited guests will then meet in the Les Camp Hall at 4 o'clock to accept the invitation extended by the Confederate Memorial Association. At 6 o'clock these ladies, attended by the Sons of Veterans, will together leave the corner of First and Broad for an entertainment at Lakeside. The banquet to the Grand Camp and to the Virginia Division of the Army of Northern Virginia will take place at Northern Virginia will take place at Sanger Hall at 9:30 P. M.

October 22d sponsors, maids of honor, weterans, and invited guests will as-semble to be ready for the parade at 12 o'clock. After the parade there will be a grand picnic at the Soldiers' Home, Richmond has the reputation of being attentive to the stranger within her gates, especially when the stranger is a Confederate character. It seems that on this occasion Richmond is to "live up to her reputation," for more enjoyable en-tertainments than a lunch given by the ladies of the Confederate Literary and Memorial Association, a trip to Gien Allen, a dance at Lakeside, and the pro-posed banquet in Sanger Hall, could hard-ly be designed.

This year the Richmond Art Club is to make it a stronghold for the artists in the city, and a power in the art world of to-day. A number of the club members have the determination to evolve an art school out of and in connection with the present art club. In this organization unusual advantages will be offered for the study of water-color painting.

position, through the formation of a State art association. The State Art Association is to include the art clubs of Richmond, Norfolk, and Lynchburg. The Executive Committee further decided to appoint Mrs. J. r. DeShield, Mr. Littleton Fitzgeraid, and Mr. William Stanard as members of the committee for providing the life class in the club with a weekly prodel.

The Daughters of the Confederacy field their annual fall meeting on Tuesday last in Lee Camp Hall. The principal business discussed was the advisibility of accepting the invitation of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to join in their reunions, aims, and other current The ladies of the Richmon chapter decided that they would send out a collector to gather in the yearly dues of some of their members who have allowed this matter to slip from their

On the 8th of November, a carnival of nations will be held in Richmond. This national affair will be a kind of bazaar, at which the booths and many of the ladies attending, will be dressed to represent different countries. The object of the entertainment is to gain the needful dollars for building a larger house for the Home for Incurables. The Good Samaritans who will aid the cause by taking part in the bazzar are: Mrs. Fitzhugh Mayo and Mrs. E. V. Valentine nt the Episcopalian booth; Mrs. A. C. Becker and Mrs. Herbert Wisacre at the Methodist booth; Mrs. S. V. Vaughan and Mrs. I. C. Phillips at the Baptist booth; Mrs. J. Newton Gordon at the Presbyterian booth; Mrs. W. H. Tyler and Mrs. Edgar Fitz at the Disciples' booth, and Mrs. Reddy and Mrs. Heintz at the Catholic booth.

ful talks on current literature and events, under the auspices of the Woman' teresting facts connected with the higher education of women at the universities of the country, and with the prominent position of the woman's college and the college girl as factors in the civilization of the day. Women's clubs in England and America Miss Winston also discussed. Another signally interesting subject spoken of was the work of English philanthropists for women of the class acquainted with pawnshops. Two fore-most institutions for the benefit of these women, which Miss Winston mentioned, were the Working Women's Bureau, founded by Walter Besant, and the industrial farm, under the personal su-pervision of the noble Lady Henry Somerset. In literature, there were four books dealing with the woman questions mentioned, with two biographies, and a work on etchers and etchings, by Ham-erton. The first blography-that of Philip Glibert Hamerton-was described as opening for its readers a glimpse into very charming society. The second was the memoir of Alfred Tennyson, by his son. "A uniformly interesting book, so rich in anecdote and marginalia as to hold the attention with the power of a novel," the critic of the New York

If the gentleman had been alive and present on Monday evening at Miss Booker's recital, he must have applied his highly colored criticism to her voice, too. Miss Booker's singing never falls to please. Miss Salle Kindred Williams the arrangement for the entertainment has a powerful contraito voice with de-eided dramatic instinct. New York for a few days in order meet several prominent artists the During the summer months she has been in Britain, several French cities, Berlin, Dresden, Nuremburg, Munich. and Bremen, occupied in sketching and in seeing the work of many artists, both dead and alive. A number of beautiful pictures will most probably be the result of this delightful trip. One of Miss Wil-liams's most recent works, painted just before her leaving the city, is a sketch of Miss Lulu Williams, which is now or exhibition at Franck's establishment, or Franklin street. The painting, done in one or two mornings, is vigorous in treat-ment and admirable as a likeness. The steamer which bears Miss Williams back

The State Convention of King's Daugh ters will meet in Norfolk October 26th, and a particularly interesting session is promised. Mrs. Isabella Charles Davis, whose visits to this city left such pleasant whose visits to this city left such pleasant impressions with her fellow-laborers here, and Mrs. Margaret Bottome, the noble president of the order of King's Daughters throughout the United States, will attend the meeting. All circles in Richmond and elsewhere are expected to send delegates to Norfolk to assist in the discussions there, and to give ac-courts of their work here. Many cirthis city will have fine reports to give in.

An Illustrators' Club has been formed by Miss Lily Logan. The young artists who form the club meet every fortnight, and one of their number reads an origi story, which she has herself illustrated. Among these young ladies, who may some day step up to take the places of Mr. Charles Dana Gibson or E. A. Abbey, are Miss Nannie Dunlop, Norah Houston, Mary James, Marie Archer, and Miss Seppee DeSaussure.

Owing to the arrival here on Tuesday of the grand concert, the rehearsal of the Wednesday Club for that day will be delayed till the 26th.

Precautious Against Scarlet-Fever. Several days ago the public schools the city quarantined against the dwell-ings adjoining No. 811 east Marshall street, where a little girl, a pupil of Cantral School, is ill with scarlet-fever. It has been deemed advisable, however, to go farther than this, and on Friday each teacher of the Central School received a note from the principal, which she read out to her class, requesting that any pupil who lived in any of the houses ad-joining the infected premises should remain at home for the present. No fear of contageen is felt, but it was thought best to take this precautionary measure.

well known among medical-men that certain diseases are more readily developed in certain occupations than in others—that each occupation its attendant physical weakness. I neers, railroad-men, and similar occupa-tions suffer mostly from kidney trou-bles, and men who are often exposed to bles, and men who are often exposed to the weather suffer from rheumatism, while clerks and professional men—in fact, the army of people whose business keeps them indoors—are oftentimes great sufferers from piles and constipation. In this connection the following letter is of interest to people whose occupa-tin will not allow sufficient outdoor ex-creise.

tin will not allow sufficient outdoor excreise.

Mr. A. F. Calhoun, Notary Public and jeweller and watchmaker, of Circleville, W. Va., writes as follows:

I had been a severe sufferer from piles for years, and had tried many remedies with but little benefit, when about three years ago I saw the Pyramid Pile Cure advertised and sent for it.

I was badly afflicted when I got it, but after only two applications the piles disappeared, and from that day to this I have never felt a symptom of the disease.

I feel that I cannot recommend them too highly to sufferers from piles.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is free from cocaine, opium, or any mineral poison, absolutely safe, pleasant, and painless; sold by druggists at 50 cents per package. If there is any constipation the Pyramid Piles should be used with the pile cure. The pills are 25 cents per package.

Any druggist will tell you that the Pyramid is the best known and most successful and popular pile cure ever placed on the market, and its reputation as a safe and radical cure has only resulted from the personal recommendation of people who have been cured of this distressing aliment.

Send to the Pyramid Company, Albion, Mich., for valuable little book on cause and cure of piles.

A Warm Political Fight-The Farmers and Crops-Personal.

BERRYVILLE, VA., October 16 .- (Spe cial.)-Quite a lively political fight is now waging between Mr. Samuel S. Thomas, waging between Mr. Samuel S. Hohnas, the nomines of the Democratic convention for the House to represent the district composed of Clarke and Warren counties, and Mr. John R. Castleman, the Independent Democratic candidate for the same office. Both are Clarke county men, Mr. Thomas having already county men, Mr. Thomas having already served one term with credit both to him-self and his constituents, and Mr. Castle-man having for many years taken a lively interest in things political. The convention which nominated Mr. Thomas was the hottest one ever held here, and the contest between Clarke county and Warren was very close, Clarke working for Mr. Thomas and Warren for Mr. A. C. Carson, and considerable feeling was shown on both sides. It is rumored here that Warren is still smarting under her defeat in the convention and will not be overenthusiastic in supporting the not be overentiouslic in apporting the convention's nomlines, from which state of affairs Mr. Castleman hopes to profit and to be elected at the election in November. In the mean time, both candidates are hard at work among the voters.

The Republicans have no candidate in the field for the Legislature.

The Town Council of Berryville have had new pavements laid on south Church street and west Academy street, thus had new payements laid on south Cauren street and west Academy street, thus greatly improving the condition of the walks on those streets.

Messrs. Gibson & Rogers, of Loudoun county, have had a number of car-loads of cattle shipped to them at this place from Southwest Virginia. The greater number of these cattle are sold in the counties across the Blue Ridge and are there fattened for the eastern markets.

The formers of Clarke county are to there fattened for the eastern markets. The farmers of Clarke county are to be congratulated upon the fine crops they have raised this year. The wheat crop was the best grown for years, and while some farmers sold before the rise and others are still holding in hopes of getting it per bushel, the average amount per bushel received will be much more than for several years. The corn crop, while injured in some localities by a hailstorm, still is a good one and is comwhile injured in some localities by a hali-storm, still is a good one and is com-manding good prices, and the hay crop is far above the average grown. The re-cent rains came just when most needed, and the wheat lately seeded is growing nicely.
